NO MORE MISERY IN THE STOMACH

Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn, or Dyspepsia Vanish in Five Minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch Gas and Eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of Dizziness, Heartburn, Fullness, Nausea, Bad Taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is Indigestion.

A full case of Pepp's Diaprepin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases, then you will understand why Dyspeptic trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. Diaprepin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for Biliousness or Constipation.

This city will have many Diaprepin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a little for Indigestion or Gastritis or any other Stomach misery. Get some now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of Stomach Trouble and Indigestion.

had interest. They failed to hold up reform in the tax laws, but have succeeded in preventing possibly the best settlement with the holders of West Virginia debt certificates. Governor White, the father of tax reform, made his first personal appeal for support to the people of Jefferson county, the home of the literary genius whose articles on the Virginia debt are being printed in several Democratic papers under the head of "Public Welfare."

The fellow who fairly wallows in forgotten lore on this question has done more than any other writer in the state in bringing into court litigation and expense. It was through his prompting that Hon. R. W. Morrow of his own county offered the resolution in the House of Delegates declaring West Virginia owed no debt several years ago. I send you this fellow's article in last week's paper in which he asks for a commission and criticizes the state's counsel for not being able to take the case out of the hands of the court.

The author of these "public welfare" articles declares for non-partisan politics, and he has contributed to the press for years on this subject, with the sole idea of influencing the people of the state against leading Republicans and without a shadow of evidence to sustain his contention.

Now, my dear sir, if I have mentioned Governor White's name in connection with our up-to-date system of taxation, I am not unmindful of the fact that he had an associate who was a hard working student on every question that affects the interests of the people.

I wish to place in the hands of this Jefferson county writer the real facts as to party responsibility in the suit now pending against the state.

His last article is No. 35 in the current series of articles now running in several papers, and I am gathering the real facts which I wish to place in his hands with the idea of having him write one more article.

Very truly,
R. M. FISHER.

Dawson's Reply.
October 21, 1910.

Hon. R. M. Fisher,
Clarksburg, W. V.

My Dear Mr. Fisher:

I have your recent letter in which you ask me who introduced the first resolution in the legislature of West Virginia declaring that the state had no outstanding bonds and owed the state of Virginia nothing. The language you name is very nearly a correct quotation from the message of Governor Jacob B. Jackson, who was governor of this state from March 4, 1881, to March 4, 1885.

In one of his messages to the legislature Governor Jackson said, in discussing the Virginia debt: "That West Virginia had no bonds, owed no debt and asked no credit. In the legislature of 1895, Hon. Andrew Edmiston, of Weston, a Democrat, and who was chairman of the Democratic state committee in 1896, offered the first resolution adopted by the legislature to the effect that the legislature would not enter into negotiations with Virginia upon the basis that Virginia held to, namely, that she was liable for only two-thirds of the debt. The Constitution of 1863 declared that West Virginia should assume an equitable proportion of the debt of Virginia existing prior to the first day of January, 1861, but this was left out of the Constitution of 1872, although Hon. Waitman P. Willey urged that it be not left out. In 1873 the finance committee of the Senate, composed largely of Democrats, made a report in which they said that West Virginia owed no part of the debt, but had overpaid Virginia to the amount of $500,000. In 1871, Governor Jacob, Democrat, appointed a commission to settle our share of the debt of Virginia. The commission was named by the governor in pursuance of a resolution passed by the legislature of 1871. But when the commission went to Richmond the governor of Virginia refused to recognize them and the auditor of Virginia refused to give them any information, although they offered to pay for it.

Very truly yours,
Wm. M. O. DAWSON.

STIEFF PIANOS

Grands-Uprights

There are some people who go plodding along never caring to investigate new possibilities which are constantly opening up, and which if cultivated means a substantial addition to the year's savings.

But this is the age of development—of change—and in no place more than the HOME has there been a more radical development.

There has also been a wonderful development in our SCHOOLS. Years ago only the children of the wealthy could secure the advantages of an education. But now, not only a general education is given to all, but the talents of our children are developed in our public schools.

A most noticeable advancement in education, is the time, attention, and devotion given to music. The cause of this is that a musical education has now become a necessity. It tends to bring out the good, and the best in us.

Our HOME is the place where we look for and want happiness, unity, and completeness. Your home is not complete without a piano. Are you giving your children the proper hold on their future?

We would be pleased to have you call at our warehouse to see our beautiful display of high grade instruments. It will pay you to write or ask for our special inducement, at once.
